TELEGRAMS

(via Galveston.)

Paris, 29th—A Cabinet Council was held to-day, to discuss the affairs of the day. M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, announced that he had come to commercial agreements with all countries, except Spain.

It is said that the Government called the attention of the Cabinet to the declarations of Cardinal Richard, Archbishop of Paris, in reference to the opposition of the clergy to the Republic, as it looked on them as an insult to the State.

Madrid, 29th—The Board of the Bank of Spain has declared that the establishment is in a satisfactory condition.

London, 29th—The Honourable Sir John Lambert is dead.

Lisbon, 29th—For reasons of retrenchment the Ministry of Education has been joined to that of State.

Rome, 29th—The King received today the Chicago Exhibition Commissioners. The Society of Artists has decided to take part in the Exhibition.

San Antonio (Texas), 29th—The subversive movement here is becoming localized, and the capture of the leader, Garza, is imminent.

New York, 29th—Letters from St. Paul de Loanda, in Africa, dated December 16th, say that advices from Bama, on the Congo, report that the American missionaries on the banks of that river have been the victims of a terrible tragedy near Palla Balla.

Five American missionaries, three men, two women and six natives were barbarously murdered, and all the houses, schools and granaries set on fire, as well as the crops, all being destroyed. The assassins fled without leaving any trace, but they are supposed to belong to the Loango tribes, half Portuguese and half natives.

London, 30th—Hume Webster, the famous horse-breeder, who committed suicide last week, has left an unpaid difference of £80,000 in his Stock Exchange account.

Vienna, 30th—The Imperial Palace at Pressburg, the finest in the Hungarian capital has been burned down.

Washington, 30th—The alarming rumours as to a possible war with Chile are dying out. The second Message of President Harrison has calmed the public mind, and the reply to the ultimatum is considered to be quite satisfactory.

Rome, 30th—The Senate approved today the commercial treaties with Austria-Hungary.

Berlin, 30th—The Imperial Chancellor Caprivi has made a long speech in the Reichstag in favour of the Religious Education Bill. The opposition to the Bill is still very great, and frequent disputes arise.

London, 30th—The Prince and Princess of Wales, with Prince George, will pass the month of February in the Villa Jansen, at Straphall (?) on the French coast.

New York, 30th—The Democrats in the House of Representatives are preparing to attack the MacKinley Bill, and bring forward in its stead another based on Free Trade principles.

St. Petersburg, 30th—It is announced from Warsaw that several army officers, convicted of an Anarchist plot, have been condemned to several years of hard labour.

Rome, 30th—It is said that the New Orleans question with the United States will be settled when Minister Porter returns here, in a few weeks. The bases of arrangement have already been approved by both Governments.

PEACE AND GOOD WILL.

The settlement of the Chilian question with the U. States is a good omen for the new year. It would have been lamentable to see the two most orderly republics of the New World engage in a destructive war which might easily be prevented. Hence we cannot fail to congratulate both parties, and especially Chile, on having come to an amicable arrangement. The bases of the reconciliation seem to be that Chile is to withdraw the offensive circular note of Minister Matta, dated December 13th, and to make indemnity for the American sailors killed at Valparaiso.

At the same time we learn that some difficulty has cropped up between Chile and Argentina on the old question of frontier limits, which we thought was settled long ago. It seems that the wording of the treaty has left room for doubt in the interpretation. The Andes, being the natural frontier, are recognized as the dividing line, but the Argentine commissioners insist that this means an imaginary line drawn along the highest tops of the Cordillera, while the Chilians allege that the watershed is the real geographic demarcation. We are inclined to think that in this respect the Chilians are right, but we cannot offer an opinion dogmatically on the matter, as our knowledge of international law is very limited.

The difference, however, between the two interpretations can hardly be of much importance, the upper ranges of the Andes being of little value and uninhabited. The Chilian version, meantime, seems to define the question as clearly as can be desired, for it says "all territory is Chilian the water of which falls into the Pacific, and Argentine that whose waters take an easterly course."

Questions of limits have caused much irritation in all the States of South America during the last 70 years, and it is the interest of all that a general map of this Continent be agreed upon, to prevent the recurrence of such disputes. Argentina has still pending the delineation of the Misiones frontier with Brazil besides that of the limits with Bolivia. But there is no country with which it is so urgent to be perfectly in accord regarding the frontier as Chile, because we are in such close and frequent contact with that republic.

If there be any doubt about a few square leagues of snow-covered territory Argentina can well afford to make Chile a present of it, more especially as Chile is such a small country, whereas Argentina has a greater area than she can turn to profitable account.

We are glad to observe that the Chilian Commissioner is the well-known historian, Barros Arana, whose friendly feeling towards the Argentine Republic has been frequently evinced and whose residence in our city some years ago, as Chilian Minister, served to promote kindly relations between the sister nations. We have, therefore, every hope that no serious obstacle may occur to the final settlement of the frontiers.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

During the feverish excitement of the last ten years, when everybody sought to grow rich by speculation and not by persevering industry, the authorities were too busy to think about the public health. The public money was freely spent in tom-fooleries, and the insane project of the Central Boulevard swallowed up millions of dollars. Meantime all forms of zymotic disease were allowed to spread their roots over the city, as we see by the official returns of the Municipality.

Small-pox, diphtheria and typhoid fever are three of the most fatal forms of zymotic disease, and, as Dr Farr says, the word "zymotic" may be taken as signifying whatever class of sickness springs from Municipal neglect and a flagrant disregard of sanitary laws. Deaths from the said three diseases were as follows:—

Year.	Small-pox.	Diphtheria.	Typhoid
1881......	7	241	216
1882......	362	221	212
1883......	1510	193	180
1884......	142	253	193
1885......	736	336	209
1886......	536	493	272
1887......	1290	975	279
1888......	657	1385	388
1889......	1833	915	509
1890......	2198	1037	628
Average..	927	632	309

If we compare the figures for 1890 with those of 1881 the result is appalling, the aggregate number of deaths from the above 3 diseases being—

1881.........	464
1890.........	3863

The number of victims to small-pox, diphtheria and typhoid multiplied 8-fold in the above interval. This shews a reckless waste of human life, a conversion of this once healthy B. Ayres into a city of "slums".

There is a second table published by Dr. Coni, shewing the relative mortality as compared with population in each year under consideration, vis.:

Year.	Small-pox.	Diphtheria.	Typhoid
	Deaths per 100,000 pop.
1881......	2	86	77
1882......	120	70	70
1883......	461	59	55
1884......	30	71	58
1885......	195	89	55
1886......	136	125	69
1887......	303	229	65
1888......	140	296	83
1889......	365	179	99
1890......	411	194	117
Average..	216	140	75

Here we see that in 1881 the deaths from the above diseases were altogether 165 per 100,000 inhabitants, and rose to 722 in 1890. That is, after allowing for increase of population, the deaths were 4½ times as numerous as in 1881, from the said diseases.

To sum up the matter briefly, the number of deaths from these three diseases and the total mortality of our city, in groups of two years, shewed thus:

Years.	Three diseases.	Total mortality.	Ratio of former
1881-82	1,260	12,774	10 p.c.
1883-84	2,471	14,941	16 „
1885-86	2,582	18,192	14 „
1887-88	4,974	24,445	20 „
1889-90	7,120	31,155	23 „
10 years	18,407	101,507	18 „

Thus it appears that whereas in the first two years of the decade the three diseases in question stood for only 10 per cent of the total mortality they now carry off 23 per cent.

From the above returns we find the average mortality of our city is 45 daily, and of these there are 10 deaths from the three zymotic diseases above mentioned. If we accept Dr. Farr's statement it must follow that the waste of human life exceeds 300 persons monthly in Buenos Ayres. It is difficult to contemplate a more shocking state of things, or a more conclusive act of indictment against the National and Municipal authorities, who seem bent on converting Buenos Ayres into a hot-bed of disease.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

POSTSCRIPT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

January 1st

I am given to understand that last night was what they call New Year's Eve and that Nature halts in her work whilst we make vows of moral improvement for the coming year and sing "Auld lang Syne." The night outside was bleak and the stars, I thought, twinkled much as usual. I might say they winked. The great room inside was hot and stuffy. At five minutes to twelve there were three men in it, silent and bored. One went out and then there were two. The clock ticked on. Another man vanished and then there was one. He was alone with the lights, to which he raised his hat and wished them a happy new year as St. Paul's tolled twelve. After that debauch, you can imagine that New Year's Day feels slower perhaps than it really is, to some of us. The newspapers are tedious with restrospects. To their prophetic vision, the new year inspires nothing tangible in the way of hopes or fears. The incidents of the day are without interest. The explosion at Dublin castle, though it occurred nearly 32 hours ago, is still a mystery. The Unionist journals shriek out "dynamite," "outrage;" but up to the present hour—10 p.m.—we are as ignorant of the cause as when I posted my letter via Genoa this afternoon. In that letter I exhausted what few events of the week there were to record. The diplomatic changes which result from the death of Sir Willian White at Berlin, the late British Ambassador at Constantinople, you will know by telegram. Sir Robert Morier, as you will see, goes to Rome and Lord Vivian, now at Brussells, replaces him at St. Petersburgh. The appointment of Sir William White's successor is not yet publicly known, but the choice is supposed to rest between Sir Henry Drummond Wolff and Sir Evelyn Baring. Lord Randolph Churchill, now on his way to England in the Scot, is apparently out of the running, though the London Standard named him for St. Petersburgh. There is a faint rumour that his lordship will be provided for in India when the present viceroy returns. Lord Randolph's last letter in the Daily Graphic continues his deprecatory account of Mashonaland, where he thinks there is little gold and not much land suited for cultivation by Europeans. The question begins to arise: "What are we to do with our African possessions? and even what is the use to Europeans of the Congo territory?" Between gold-seeker, missionary, promoter and explorer, we are left in bewilderment.

In the annual delivery of political prizes which occurs at this season, the new Peers are Sir Frederick Roberts, Commander in chief in India, and in honnor to science Sir William Thompson. Sir William, of Scotch extraction, was born in Belfast. There is another addition to the peerage, a certain Admiral Sir Arthur William Acland Hood, of whom the outside world knows nothing. He is probably a relative of somebody's. Amongst the new privy councillors is the well known Liverpool gentleman Mr. Forwood, now Secretary to the Admiralty. To be a "Right Honorable" as privy councillor was the ambition of the great mind of the late Sir William White, the true successor of Lord Stratford and whose place Lord Salisbury will not be able to fill at Constantinople, where the Russian and French embassies are now in high glee. Sir William bullied the Sultan admirably. The Sultan feels the loss severely. The bullying was traditional and becomes a second nature to hapless Sultans of Turkey. The British bully was also a protection against others of different nationalities. Sir William White was discovered by Lord Salisbury when making that famous Secret Treaty the existence of which he has publicly denied; but as his recent biographer Dr. Traill says, the denial was not a real fib but only such a one as Sir Walter Scott deigned to tell when taxed about the authorship of Waverley. Sir William was then plain Mr. White, British consul in Servia. He was of Bismarkian stature, bearded and stout, something like Lord Salisbury himself, and with a voice so sharpened or at times softened by the Irish brogue that his "My dear Si..rr" could be heard in the next street and struck terror or charmed a bird off a bough as occasions required. He was the son of an obscure parson and is known to his credit never to have read anything but newspapers and protocols which from any treaty within the last century or so he could quote textually at any moment. He was a born diplomatist and naturally worshipped Lord Salisbury who had he lived would have made him a peer. He was educated I see at King William's College, Isle of Man, with Archdeacon Farrar and other distinguished men not so well known. I remember Farrar there, but I cannot say I remember White.

Amongst the humbler poppies rather than the tall stalks which death's scythe has lately laid low, is poor Alfred Cellier, the composer of "Dorothy." You remember when the quarrel occurred between Gilbert and Sullivan—now I believe healed—Mr. Gilbert went over to Cellier. Their joint operatic production "The Mountebanks" was to have been produced this week at the "Lyric." Cellier, who had been ailing, left Bournemouth last week to put the finishing touches to his score and deliver it to Mr. Sedger, the manager of the Lyric. This he did, but two days afterwards the London fogs killed him. Sullivan seems to have been alarmed at Cellier's death, for he has since bolted off to the Riviera. The "Mountebanks" is announced for next week. Alfred Cellier was of French extraction but born within the sound of Bow bells.

On turning back my leaves, I cannot help thinking of my theories of Gallegoism. Of the men mentioned—Roberts, Thompson, White, Sullivan, Cellier, not one is English. Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Judea and France are respectively and worthily represented.

The Tre-sury, as you will know, did move in Mrs. Osborne's case, but so conveniently slowly that the fair Ethel, after making a full confession through her husband and brother, has so far evaded the police. But where can she go? Even Spain is no longer a sanctuary for committers of indictable offences. Your musical readers will be interested in knowing that Captain Osborne is the son of Mr. George Alexander Osborne, the composer, whose works for the pianoforte, and in conjunction with de Beriot for violin and pianoforte were well known to the fathers and mothers of, some of your readers. Old Osborne is very much alive and 85 years of age. He too is an Irishman, and it is not very long since I heard his genial "My dear Si-rr." A happy new year to you. Let us hope next week will be more inspiring to letter writers than this proverbially dull season.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO.

Jan. 30.

A semi-official organ states that within 24 hours from the issue of the Bank of England circular, Uruguayan bonds to the amount of five millions sterling were converted. This news is supposed to have been wired by Dr. Ellauri. There is nothing new about the new bank.

On Wednesday next the passengers of the Europa, Nord America and Mentana will be released from quarantine.

The Liebig Factory at Fray Bentos has started the electric light with a view to slaughtering at night. The killing now goes on at the rate of 2000 per 24 hours.

Colonel Murio is to be named Port-Captain, and Col. Quijano Chief of Police.

The weather is quite cool. It has rained throughout the country districts.

Government expects to receive this evening telegrams from London announcing the final arrangements for opening the new bank.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The latest news from the seat of intervention is that, in spite of the armed force placed at the door of the printing-office, the Reforma issued a bulletin attacking the interventor in language of a most intemperate character. This circumstance shews that the press is irrepressible, although the system of issuing a bulletin in this fashion is extremely dangerous, for the editor may get a bullet in before he knows where he is. The Judges appointed by the Interventor are arresting people right and left. Half a dozen club-secretaries are in quod, which is causing considerable excitement. The Radicals maintain that General Ortega is at the bottom of this judicial severity. In the meantime justice must have its course, and the assailants of Dr. Suarez's house must be punished for a crime which, although not unprecedented in Mendoza, created consternation amongst the peaceful Mendocinos. In regard to the impeachment of Governor Ortiz, the Interventor has at last turned his attention to the subject. He applied to the Chamber for a copy of the Act, which was duly forwarded him, but not in legalised form, since it lacked the signature of the secretary. The reason of the absence of this signature is very simple. The secretary is in the other world. He was killed during the assault on Dr. Suarez's house. The circumstance of the non-legalised form of the impeachment Act is favorable to the Governor, as the act may be thrown out. The Interventor, however, is very reticent on the subject, and the result is that His Excellency, the Governor, is in a terrible state of anxiety, like Damocles with the sword hanging over him. The contending parties appear to have arrived at some understanding, for they have drawn up a list of three candidates for the Governorship, leaving it to the Interventor to select the coming man from the list. The Interventor is likewise very reticent on this subject, and the contending parties, like the Governor, are in a state of anxiety. It does not much matter, however, who is chosen, as the next Governor will find the provincial exchequer in the usual deplorable condition of provincial exhaustion; and without money, even a Governor will find it difficult to go off the track to the injury of the interests of the sovereign people. Talking of the exchequer, the new Intendente of Mendoza, Mr. Salas, began his term of office in a significant way. He called on the Interventor to pay up the hospital subsidy at once.

It is now some days since we have had to record a Cordobese outrage. Advices received yesterday report a cowardly and dastardly attack by Cadeneros on two editors, who were quietly discussing in the street, though not in their papers, the topics of the day. One of our colleagues was severely mauled. The other, seeing that the game was up and there was no use in resisting overwhelming numbers, retired with the dignity of Cocles over the Tiber bridge (perhaps with a little moral precipitancy) into the house of a subscriber and thus—to use a vulgar expression—saved his bacon. We strongly protest against this outrage, which we can find no expression strong enough to properly qualify. The unmauled editor runs a diminutive organ known as the Campeon. Small in size and circulation, its language vigorous, its propaganda unceasing, and the editor can look every man in the face, for, like the Village Blacksmith, we believe he doesn't owe a cent—and that's more that his assailants can say for themselves.

Advices from Santa Fé state that the Commissary of San Cristobal, where the Trachman family were recently butchered, had a narrow escape of being murdered by bandits. Our prediction that the settlers would resort to Lynch Law is coming true. We note that the settlers have applied to the authorities for leave to organise vigilance-committees as the only means of stemming the present terrible torrent of crime which is sweeping over Santa Fé.

LETTERS FROM PATAGONIA.

XII.

MORE ATTEMPTS TO READ ANCIENT MANUSCRIPTS.

We have pitched our camp in a hollow close to the river, not far from the foot of the Andes. A score of erratic blocks are lying about on the arid grass; the largest of them may measure some 350 cubic feet. I have established myself under its shelter, more from custom than necessity, for since some days the wind has much abated.

The Santa Cruz glacier which flowed in the valley, as testified by these blocks and the striated lava, has itself been the chief agent in shaping it, in hollowing it out. The stratum of sand that was there, as it is everywhere over the pampa, before the ice came, was not, in spite of its thickness, of sufficient density to oppose the crushing weight of the advancing mass.

It gave way and crumbled before it, and the turbid glacier brooks carried its remains to the sea. Where the lava had flowed thickly, where the hills were higher, the resistance was less easily surmounted, for there the valley is actually narrow, crooked, with precipitous sides.

The pebbles that lie in the valley were not there at the time of the glacial period. The ice river would have shovelled them away as easily as a steam engine drives an inch of snow from the rails.

A theory was started the other day by a member of our expedition, according to which the pebbles would have been left, as they are, by the glacier itself, and would be at once remnants and witnesses of its work. This is impossible. No one who is acquainted with glaciers and glacier-remains could glance at these pebbles and mistake them for such.

Rocky surfaces on which ice flows are rounded and scratched—the French call them "roches moutonneés." But stones transported by glaciers are never smoothed, never rounded, never pebbly. Unless acted upon by another agent, they are always sharp, angular, as they were when they fell down from precipices upon the glacier's back.

And the shape of the erratic blocks scattered in the Santa Cruz valley and on its side shows that subsequently to their deposit they were acted upon by the waves and currents of a great mass of water. Now this water cannot have been the river itself, because many erratic boulders are perched high up on the top of the barrancas. It must have been the sea, the waves of which, whilst they smoothed the blocks, littered the future pampa with its layer of pebbles and sand.

What was the cause of this invasion of the ice?—Fortunately for my readers I have elsewhere written some ponderous pages on the subject, otherwise I doubt not I should give way to the temptation of expatiating upon it through a few solemn letters.—Let us be short, if not sweet!

Glaciers do not exist out of mountainous countries. Their size depends—apart from the influence exerted by winds and sea currents—not only on latitude, but on the height of the mountain ranges. Thus has Himalaya greater glaciers than Scotland. The latitude being the same, the higher a massif of mountains rises, the larger are its glaciers. Forbes has shown that a slight increase in the height of the Scandinavian range would have as a consequence the extension of ice over the whole country.

Patagonia has been and is still subject to upheavals and sinkings. Actually the whole peninsula is emerging from the sea. The Chilian coast has been ascertained to rise at the rate of something like seven tenths of an inch per annum. The eastern shore is rising also, more rapidly, though this has not been measured, but I will state some facts that shall be proof sufficient:

In Puerto Gallegos, just in front of the settlement, there is a pebbly beach extending far beyond the limit actually reached by tide and wave. No vegetation has as yet invaded it. Between it and the lower actual shore, there is perfect continuity. We can therefore not be far wrong in admitting that this layer of pebbles, over which formerly the billows were rolling, has been put out of their reach but recently by a steady upheaval of land.

According to Sr. L. G. Fontana, Governor of the Chubut province, "the ship Union, which was lost five years ago" (at the time of the author's writing) "two miles north of the mouth of the Rio Chubut, stands now six feet above the level of the highest tides."

Don F. Villarino, Teniente Coronel, told me that some years ago a ship was partly destroyed by fire in Puerto Deseado. What was left of it, the hull, went to the bottom. And now this same hull is on dry land, at a distance of two "cuadras" from the limit of the highest tides.

It is therefore quite within the limits of sound geological speculation to admit the fact that the soil on which stretches the Cordillera may in distant times have been raised, and the range with it, at a higher level than it occupies now. In such a case, the moist ocean-winds must have accumulated on the mountains a greater amount of snow than they do now. The immediate consequence forces itself: the glaciers, fed by a greater quantity of snow, must have grown larger.

It is an almost generally recognised fact, since the writings of Ramsay, that the lakes of mountainous countries, such as Norway, Switzerland, Scotland, etc., are—with the exception of crater-lakes and lagunas—the work of ancient glaciers, which hollowed out their rocky beds. We have endeavoured elsewhere to show that the "fjords" of Norway owe their origin to the same cause.

Please to cast a glance at a map of Southern Patagonia. You will observe that it presents a distinctly "glacial appearance." The coast, in the vicinity of the Andes, is indented by numerous deep and narrow "fjords," some of which are not well known even now. Deep lakes, of a considerable volume of water, lie at the foot of the range, no doubt the Cordillera hides a great number of such in its unexplored valleys.

Similar causes have similar effects. We have no hesitation in asserting that the beds of these lakes are the work of the ancient glaciers, whose ponderous masses, descending along the glens of the Cordillera, grated upon and hollowed the rocky surface. They filled with their icy billows the basins thus formed. Then they encountered the sandy barrier of eocen origin, poured over it their frozen rivers, which dug valleys as they flowed.

We may remark, by the way, that this glacial period had not in Patagonia the intensity which characterized the age of that name in Europe. The continent was not, as Greenland is now, as Norway has been, almost wholly covered with one continuous vast sheet of ice. The layer of sand and volcanic rubbish I have so often alluded to, which could nowhere have resisted the pressure, is undisturbed, except in the channels in which the ice flows, such as the Santa Cruz or Rio Chico valleys, where it has been swept away.

How far did the glaciers go? This is difficult to ascertain. Perhaps they met the sea, and their icebergs carried their stones afar. At any rate, I have seen no moraine in the Santa Cruz valley, which would have indicated a standing point of the glacier.

Señor Ramon Lista, in his "Mis Exploraciones y Descubrimientos," page 15, says: "In my frequent journeys to Patagonia I have observed with wonder enormous erratic blocks and extensive moraines, eloquent remains of the glacial period through which this territory has passed." But he does not say where he saw these moraines, so this gives us no clue to the course of the glaciers; nor what they were made of, so we feel no certainty as to their coming from the Andes and being really moraines; nor what was their shape or size, nor how many there were of them, so we do not know to how many glaciers they refer, or, if in the same valley, to how many standing points of one glacier; nor on what ground they lay, so we miss that link in the chain of evidences that testify to the age of the ice period; nor does he speak of the shape of their stones, so we cannot judge whether the sea covered them or not. This is unfortunate.

But where do the enormous amount of rolled stones which cover the shores of Puerto Santa Cruz and Puerto Gallegos come from?

As a rule, beaches are due to the disintegration of the rocks upon which the sea breaks. But there are no such rocks there (with the exception of some lava near Puerto Gallegos). The pebbles are quite a mineralogical collection. Their composition is heterogeneous; some are of quartz, others of granite, porphyry, diorite, trachyte, etc. Their nature points out their origin; they came from the Cordillera. What can they be but the remnants of old moraines beaten out of shape by the waves of the sea? This must likewise be the case with the gold that is found, in scant quantities, along the eastern shore. Gold does not naturally enter into the composition of the deposits of the Patagonian plateau. Gold, when "in situ", exists in quartz-bearing rocks, such as are found in the Andes. The cradle of the gold deposits is in the Cordillera. Rocks extricated from it have been carried away by the ice to the east, and there been converted into pebbles and sand by the sea waves.

Such have been the events of a relatively short era in the history of Patagonia, as pointed out by a few stones lying near the Santa Cruz river.

But enough of musty science! How bored you must be, gentle reader. In my next letter I shall resume the thread of our thrilling adventures by flood and field, if such happen.

T. Chapuis.

THE FRONTIER QUESTION.

The Nacion yesterday published the following telegram:—

Santiago de Chile,
Jan 29.

Rumors have been circulating within the last few days to the effect that the Demarcation Committees have suspended their labors, in consequence of disagreement. It is generally believed that the cause of the disagreement is that the Argentine Committee, in compliance with instructions, insist on an Argentine port on the Pacific. As a matter of fact I may state that disagreement exists, but not on account of the circumstance above stated. The Argentine "perito" is of opinion that the boundary-line must be drawn, following the highest summits of the Cordillera, whereas the Chilian 'perito' says that the watershed is the proper boundary. The rumor that the Argentine "perito" requires a port on the Pacific arises from the fact that should his boundary line be adopted, Argentina would come in for a port on the Pacific in the extreme south of Patagonia, as may be easily seen by Latzina's map. The two "peritos" have by no means disagreed, as some people here wish to make out. They express their conviction that they will be able to settle the question very soon. There is not the shadow of animosity between them. The general opinion here, too, is that the difficulty will be satisfactorily and amicably arranged.

CONVENT OF THE SACRED HEART.

(Communicated.)

Letters were received on Friday from Paris instructing Rev. Mother Fitzgerald to start immediately for Chile, where the Convent of the Sacred Heart is in want of a Superioress. This news, as painful as unexpected, spread rapidly through the large circle of native and foreign families that the nuns have endeared themselves to by their many virtues and good deeds, and during the whole of last evening little else was done at the Convent in Calle Santa Fe than receiving sorrowing visitors who thronged the hall and the reception rooms continuously up to a late hour. It is now twelve years since Rev. Mother Fitzgerald arrived here from Mount Anville, exchanging voluntarily the education of the young ladies of Dublin for the care of our poor orphans, whom for some considerable time they fed and clothed at their own expense, pending the collection of funds from the generous camp subscribers. In union with Madame Fitzgerald numerous friends and good-wishers we say respectfully a "fond farewell." We are glad to say that the direction of the Convent of the Sacred Heart will devolve on so able and accomplished a lady as Mother Findlay, who has for years been Mother Assistant both in the Rio Bamba Orphanage and the Santa Fe road. As the Chilian steamers now anchor in port it will not be necessary for passengers to West Coast to go to Montevideo on the eve of departure as in former times, therefore, those of our readers desirous of taking a last ad'eu of Rev. Mother Fitzgerald, must be at the Darsena by 8 a.m. to-morrow (Monday).

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Inspector-General in his report to the Board of Public Works, in an application of M. Sanjulé in behalf of the San Cristobal-Tucuman Railway for authority to construct a level crossing over the rails of the Rosario Railway states that he is quite agreeable, since the Rosaria Railway has no objection.

The third annual meeting of the Santa Fé and Cordoba Great Southern Railway Company, Limited, was held on Dec. 31 in London. Mr. A. W. Watson, who presided, moved the adoption of the report and accounts. He said the revenue accounts showed a loos of £3,657 on the year's working. During the last four months the whole line was opened to traffic, but before that only 102 miles, as far as Venado Tuerto, were being worked. The chief reason for the small receipts during the year was that the crops had been completely swept away by locusts, which visited the neighbourhood of the railway. A meeting was held last October to take into consideration the financial difficulties of the company, and it was decided to request the intervention of the debenture trustees. A receiver and manager was appointed, but he was sorry to state that technical difficulties arose, and acceptances of the company maturing from the 6th November had remained unpaid. It was, therefore, proposed to adjourn that meeting to the 24th February, when it was believed that an acceptable proposal would be able to be submitted.—After the adoption of the report, a resolution was passed adjourning the meeting to the date mentioned.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The month, as far as business is concerned, closed yesterday with a reported burst-up of the Acuerdo and an ugly look in the Gold Eagle's eye. The whole political house of cards seems, to sympathising foreign onlookers, to be coming down by the run. This day week the great question will be practically decided; but the next seven days are more than likely to be unpleasantly lively.

The highly probable settlement of the Chilian-United States question put everybody in good humour yesterday; and we saw several of our leading Chilian and North American subscribers warmly shaking hands over the peaceful prospect. Both sides admit that but for Matta's cheeky circular there would have been no row. All's well that ends well.

The Bresil yellow fever cases are, as usual, a false alarm. The stoker and steward ate something that disagreed with them; and the third patient is simply a lady in naturally delicate health.

Mr. Olmi, the well-known auctioneer, offers another splendid opportunity to those looking for good furniture, on Wednesday and Thursday next, when he will hammer away the household furniture of Mr. Thomas McDermott. This furniture at one time belonged to the late Don Carlos Schweitzer, and is of such a costly kind that the auctioneer values it at $300,000.

The programme of music at the Tigre Hotel to-night is splendid. The weather is now so very nice that a trip to the Tigre is a thing of joy, whereas when the thermometer is high, the railway part of it is a martyrdom.

We have to congratulate the Minister of Education on having secured so able and experienced a man as the Rev. Mr. Spilsbury for the post of Vice-rector of the National College at Concepcion, province of Entre Rios. There are not many school-masters of such long standing in this republic, or who have a more extended reputation for learning and ability. In Cordoba and in Buenos Ayres he has hosts of friends, and we augur for him in his new post at Concepcion a career of undiminished usefulness and popularity.

"Muy bien". That Alvear Grotto at the Recoleta is to have an iron gate. It is about time. This gate will be opened for two hours on week days and five on Sundays and holidays.

The Capital announces the arrest of the chief of the Transandine Telegraph Office in Rosario, Mr. Francis Alexander, on Thursday last, charged with misappropriating $3000 in gold and notes belonging to the company. His private furniture has been embargoed to cover part of the default, which came to light when the new company took over the business.

The following leave by 9.30 from Central station to-morrow evening to represent B.A.C.C. in match v. Rosario to be played on Tuesday:— G. S. Anderson, R. Anderson, A. B. P. Boyd, M. G. Fortune, J. Gifford, E. R. Gifford, J. H. Garrod, G. Harker, V. Ker-Seymer, C. Parry and D. J. Stokes.

The Village of the Heights is progressing. The telephone is now working, and nothing is wanted but a good hotel and restaurant within a short distance of Devoto station to make this delightful place a favorite resort on holidays. Dr. Susini is building a handsome quinta, and it is rumored that the Carmelite Fathers have been offered a fine site for a college for the sons of Irish estancieros.

Tuesday, being Candlemas Day, will be a holiday. Wednesday will be the 40th anniversary of the fall of Rosas, since which date the protection for life and property has steadily declined, year by year, until there is at present hardly any left. On the other hand the most complete impunity for crime exists, especially for murder.

Many of our country readers will regret to learn that Mrs. Macken has given up the boarding-school which she carried on so successfully during the last 20 years, and is about to return to Ireland. Her services to the cause of education have been of the highest value, and her name will long be gratefully remembered among the families of the Irish estancieros of Buenos Ayres.

The entertainment given at the Boca Mission Hall on Thursday last was a great success, and the audience evinced their appreciation of the efforts put forth by the performers by their constant applause and encores. The greatest praise is due to Mr. and Mrs. Morris, who must have spent both time and patience in training the young performers in such an admirable manner.

The Belgrano Polo Club are to-day playing a match on their ground against the Rovers' Polo Club (Quilmes); and as a good game is expected, they hope all their friends will come and look at the game, which will commence at three o'clock.

No wonder if our friends in Montevideo can think of no other source of relief except another "feria" or forced holiday, for an indefinite period. They have evidently reached the life-not-worth-living stage. The M. V. Times to hand yesterday says:—"The financial aspect yesterday was as gloomy and dull as the weather. Not even the forced trumpetings of the Government organs could galvanize any life or interest into the outlook. Every one is getting so heartily sick of false announcements, postponements, mystifications and delay, that any definite and credible announcement would be welcomed as a relief, even if it were that of the total collapse of everything, including the Republic itself."

The Rio News announces the death at Santos, on the 2nd instant, from yellow fever, of Arthur E. Dewar, son of the late Dr. Donald Dewar, of Glasgow, aged 28. Mr. Dewar was for some time employed in the London and River Plate Bank in Montevideo.

The Passionist Fathers are hastening on the works of the new Church in the Calle Caridad in order to have it ready for divine service on next St. Patrick's day. A beautiful Celtic cross of solid granite will be placed on the roof. In order that a large number of the faithful may have an opportunity of contributing to this beautiful work of art, the Fathers propose to raise the amount necessary for its purchase by small subscriptions, not more than $5 nor less than $1 for each person. Books for subscriptions have been sent to the camp, which must be returned before the 20th February. We have no doubt that all who can will gladly give their mite to raise the Celtic cross on the house of God.—Southern Cross.

There is a many-sided man at Azul: He is Professor in the Normal School, doctor with a large practice, President of the Union Civica, President of the Union Club, farmer and editor of a local paper; he is also a tip-top amateur fencer and a great pet with the ladies. A London guinea-pig could hardly have more to do; but no London g. p. is a pet of the ladies, and that makes all the difference.

The Municipality is so hard-up that the Lord Mayor has been reluctantly forced to refuse the modest request of the Chief of Police that the pavement in front of two of the Comisarias should be repaired.

Can any Insurance agent explain why the capital of Chile is such a pet with the Fire Fiend? They had another terrific blaze there on Thursday night, to the tune of $200,000. The office of our contemporary the 'Epoca' ended in ashes; and a book-seller, a tailor a saddler and a bazaar man are also in mental mourning. The fact that the buildings destroyed were the property of Balmaceda's widow throws suspicion on the origin of the fire.

Dr. Kier, ex-member of the Supreme Court of Buenos Ayres, is to be the new Attorney General of the Nation. Our Argentine friends tell us he will prove to be the right man in the right place.

Carriage horses bolt in this city oftener than in any other, thanks to the fact that every "hijo de vecino" thinks that he can drive a horse, and takes to it when all other trades fail. Mr. Blaedel, a prominent member of the Copenhagen Driving Club who is now here, has invented and obtained a ten years' patent for a Safety Trace which, by means of a lever at the driver's hand, is detached the moment the horse bolts, and away the animal goes on his own hook, leaving the carriage at a stand-still. A trial, of which due notice will be given, will take place in a few days.

The City Papas held a meeting on Friday, after several days of no quorum. They voted $215,000 to keep the Lord Mayor going (in his public capacity,) and postponed till the Ides of March the discussion of a charge made against him for keeping an official in office against the Council's wish. They then perpetrated the rather serious and utterly bad joke of agreeing to discuss a settlement of the City Loan with the Barings, giving 10 per cent of the City Revenues up to June, and after that twenty five per cent religiously till the Loan is wiped out!! As the City Revenue is really not even half enough to meet the most ordinary expenditure, the credulity and ignorance of the real condition of affairs in this city and the country at large which characterized Lord Revelstoke, must have fallen like a mantle on his successors.

The National "cooler" Patagonia is reported totally lost in that interesting locality, Sloggett Bay.

House-owners were not so deadly pale yesterday as they were when they heard of the increase in the charge for pipe-water. It appears that the increased rate is only to be applied in the case of livery-stables, bath-houses and other large establishments that use far more water than they are entitled to at the price.

The "boleto" rows in the tram cars continue. We heard a policeman recount yesterday particulars of a difficulty he was summoned to settle. The passenger struck him, and was "hauled", to the intense delight of the Inspector and "mayoral." All the "mayorales" on all the lines are wild with anxiety to know what the Cardoso apparatus, to which we referred yesterday, is like; they are afraid it will do away with their occupation.

The new cross on the dome of the Merced church in nearly ten feet in height. It was put in its place yesterday.

Formerly in Holland the greatest punishment which existed for offending soldiers was to give them unsalted bread. After a few months of this "regime" the culprits almost invariably died.

A Paris letter says:—"Under the regime of the late Lord Lytton the English Embassy in Paris was a home of almost regal magnificence. It was sumptuously furnished, filled with costly objects of art, and not the least interesting thing in it was an invaluable collection of rare East Indian curiosities, gathered by Lord Lytton while he was the Queen's Viceroy in India. Lord Lytton took an unbounded interest in the artists of Paris and was a frequent visitor to their studios."

The Holy See has preconized the very Revd. Dr. Pablo Padilla as the new Bishop of Salta.

A sign on an American railroad restaurant reads—"Dinner ready! You don't have to wait! We have men hired to do that!"

The story that the £120,000 prize of the Christmas Lottery in Madrid had fallen to two Montevidean merchants was a bad joke played on them. The real winner was a jolly widow, Señora de Cunil, owner of a large chocolate factory in Madrid. She held the whole ticket, No. 33,558. A prize of £3,200 fell to somebody in Montevideo, but nobody knows who the lucky man or woman is.

This is positively the last week of our sale of incomplete lines of singlets, pants, socks, dustcoats, jackets, etc. etc. We have done a big business during the past week, and everybody has been more than satisfied.

We take it that our past reputation as the foremost English outfitting house in Buenos Aires is sufficient to convince the public that the prices given below are genuine reductions. Full sized gents' umbrellas will cost elsewhere $10, our price $4.50. White shirts, striped pique fronts, worth $6, our sale price $3.50 over 300 sold last week; strong braces, solid leather ends, usually sold at $2.50, now selling at 95 cents. Gentlemen's office coats from $4.90. Long Mohair dust coats $15.90, worth $25. Waistcoats from $3.70.

It is folly to pay ridiculously high prices when we can give you better goods and better value. Don't miss the place "THE ENGLISH", 596 Cangallo, shortly moving next door. It will pay you to walk a few squares. Remember this is the last week. Your neighbour will thank you for telling him of it.

Messrs. Moore & Tudor, Maipu 163, B. Aires.
Chascomus, March 23rd 1891.
Dear Sirs—
"I have tried HAYWARD'S "PASTE" DIP on my Sheep, and have pleasure in bearing testimony to ITS EFFICACY AS A DIP. I need have no hesitation in recommending it generally as a Cure for Scab, without discolouring or damaging the Wool.
The "PASTE" is in my opinion preferable to the Powder, and will probably have a larger sale than the latter."
Yours very truly
(Signed)
JOHN KELLIE.

It has been proved by many important Estancieros that HAYWARD'S PASTE is more convenient to use than any other Dip, being already mixed and dissolving in any kind of water. It makes a smooth soapy bath which adheres well to the Fleece and leaves the wool clean and soft.

ON 'CHANGE.

Saturday, January 30th 1892.
The liquidation came off to-day in a wonderfully steady market, the fluctuations of the morning not exceeding twenty cents. The steadiness of the situation only goes to show how wrong even the shrewdest men in the market are in their opinions of speculative currents. For two weeks at least the sharpest dealers on 'Change maintained that speculators for a rise had run "long" of gold; the so-called pass from month to month rose to 1$ and even 1.80$, and this seemed to confirm their views. Yet, at the last moment, we see that they were mistaken, and this morning's settlement proved to satisfaction that the market was neither "long" nor "short" of gold. The bulls were more or less right in their forecast of the market, for gold closed hard at 62$ to the ounce to-day; the bears had calculated for weeks on a headlong fall and they pay the differences of the January settlement: the bulls score another victory.
The following comparative table will give an idea of the march of the gold market for December and January. We append the price of the ounce and $100 gold in paper money, according to the daily closing quotation of the first ring:—

We may say that the gold market has remained more or less steady ever since the headlong fall in October when the political crisis reached a climax and the market broke away with the news of heavy gold shipments from London. Gold appears to have touched top and bottom price that month, the premium has been steadily striving to rise above the bottom price, and it has succeeded in maintaining a steady and firm attitude, refusing to fall under 60$ to the ounce The market all along has been more bullish than bearish, and a very firm reaction appears to be looming on the horizon of February in view of the political events ahead, involving elections for Senators and Deputies, the meeting of two great political caucuses, and the whispered evolution of the conciliation party into an agreement to proclaim General Roca candidate for the Presidency. All this points to very important political events in the next four weeks. The market, plunged in doubt and anxiety, is taking in sail and buying gold. Meantime, it cannot be denied that the rumor of General Roca's candidature is greeted as a solution of the great political problem that is perplexing the country. For months past it has been tacitly acknowledged that the General's candidature was irrepressible, in view of the utter anarchy among the contending parties. If General Mitre's party support this new evolution in the political arena we may say that the Presidential question will be satisfactorily settled, although very many doubt if General Roca can be induced to stand for the post, in view of his successive declarations that he will on no account accept any political combination in which his name may be involved as a candidate for the presidency or vice-presidency.
Meantime, the market at large distrusts the near future and dealers are still buying heavily for the end of February. About twenty four thousand ounces changed hands at the ring to-day; the price opened at $61.90, fell to $61.80, and closed hard at $62, say 281% premium. Four thousand sovereigns were sold at $19.20 to $19.25, closing rate, say 282% premium. Several English brokers operated on a heavy scale to-day, and outsiders immediately jumped at the conclusion that they were "passing" gold on banking account; these surmises, however, are entirely speculative and have no ground to stand on.
Patriotic Bonds ruled very weak; over seventy thousand were sold at $55.80. Catalinas were slightly firmer at $6.80. La Plata Cedulas continued very weak and neglected; the whole fabric is tottering.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—
South American Ounces—
For cash.... 28,998 at 61.90-80-90-62-61.90-62
Sovereigns—
For cash.... £3890 at 19.20-25-20-23 22-24-25
Patriotic Bonds—
For cash.. 70,500 at 55.80
Catalinas Mole—
For cash.... 100 at 6.80
Provincial Cedulas—
For cash..G 69.50 at 27.20-27
For cash..K 1,000 at 27.40
For cash..N 10,000 at 28.40
For cash..O 104,800 at 28.40-20-30-20 10
For cash..P 5,500 at 29
Exchange ruled quiet all day at 48¼ to 48½d. on London. Affairs have been dull for the last week, and the Lamport and Holt steamer Coleridge, which leaves to-morrow, will take a small exchange mail. Discounts continue very difficult.

It is said that the R.M.S. Magdalena, expected here on the 8th prox., brings 20 millions of brand new notes for the Banco de la Nacion Argentina, so we shall soon see discounts again in full swing and less pressure in the money market. The Magdalena also brings four hundred thousand sovereigns.

Immediately after the ring, the gold market stiffened and ounces rose to 62.20$. Contango, which was spoken of at 50 cents at an early hour, rose as the day grew, and in the afternoon there were buyers of gold for end of February at 63; this points visibly in a bullish direction.

Telegrams were received to-day from Antwerp quoting linseed at 24½ fcs and Entre Rios wheat at 20 fcs., say the same price current for good Santa Fé qualities. These prices are with cif.

We see by the Uruguayan papers that the Great Liebig factory in Fray Bentos has slaughtered 15,000 head up to date. Preparations are being made in the factory to slaughter 2000 head in the 24 hours.

We have seldom seen a better contested settlement than to-day. The struggle began last night and was carried on gamely to-day. Bulls and bears mustered in equal forces; good buyers and good sellers, fighting for every inch of ground between $61.90 and $62 to the ounce. From 12 to 1 o'clock the excitement was at fever pitch, and the surging, seething, yelling crowd of bulls and bears kept the whole hall in suspense. The battle might have been considered drawn as the bell rang but for the subsequent advance which confirmed the bullish victory. It was a grand battle for ten cents, but the bears got the worst of it, and February comes with disastrous prospects for them.

The already firm feeling in gold this afternoon was intensified by some peculiar rumors of impending violent changes not far distant from this capital. The rumors were traced to the columns of our evening colleagues and produced an uncomfortable feeling. It would appear that something is wrong in the province, and dark hints are let out that in a few days some startling and lively events may be expected. This explains to a great degree the firm turn in the gold market after the ring. We may add that this month was born with sinister rumors and it is no wonder if it dies with same, throwing a disagreeable projection into February.

The Pacific steamer Aconcagua, from Liverpool, left Rio to-day; she is expected at Montevideo on the 3rd prox. and is posted to leave same day for the Pacific.

The Governor of Entre Rios has applied to the National Finance Minister for $25,000 to relieve the Tala colonists who suffered by the last cyclone.

"Lincoln Longwool Sheep for Buenos Ayres.—Mr. Duddling has sold from his celebrated prize flock during the last week three lots of rams. Mr. Don. Maclennan secured thirty splendid ram hoggs, both for size and quality of wool, at a long price, but from the second run; the first lot are always reserved for show and special purposes. Another lot of twenty-five, sold to another customer from the third lot at an ordinary price, are very level sheep. Also two special stud rams at 50 gs. each for the very noted breeders, Messrs. Pania. All the above rams are eligible for the new Lincoln Flock-book. We may mention that the Riby Grove flock of 1,500 sheep are in a very healthy condition.

"According to a complaint lodged with the police by Mr. Carlos Haas, of the firm of A. Dreyfas & Co., his partner, Henry Ebstein, temporarily cashier of the firm, has abstracted $200,000 from the firm's bank account and from cash paid in by customers. Ebstein was arrested on the 12th, while attempting to escape. He confesses to a loss of $100,000 in Bolsa operations and in gambling at the Nova Cassino Fluminense. Subsequent inquiries show that other parties were also victimized through loaning Ebstein money, which was of course lost in stock gambling."

It is a fact that the best Scotch Whisky has now arrived in this country, and the following lines from BON GAULTIER'S BALLADS, viz: "THE MASSACRE OF THE MACPHERSON" (from the Gaelic) will prove that the "GLENLIVET" Whisky has always been to the fore, and its superiority will enable it always to maintain its position.

" Fhairshon had a Son

" By trinking up the water

The public are hereby informed that I have been instructed by Thomas MacDermott, Esq., to sell at public auction all the valuable household furniture and household belongings which adorns his imposing palace in Calle

1541--VIAMONTE--1541
between Parana and Montevideo
This important sale will take place
On Wednesday 3rd and Thursday 4th of Feb. next at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and I can affirm without hesitation that nothing like the contents of this mansion, has been seen, sold or heard of here before. It is the most important auction—in its kind—that takes place in South America.

The menage represents a fortune.

Over 300,000

(three hundred thousand dollars m/n legales) have been invested in decorating this most comfortable home.

It is next to an impossibility to give here the complete details, these will be seen in the catalogues which are being printed specially, to be distributed three days before the sale in the same palace and in my offices 566 Piedad.

All the household effects of whatever kind, partake of the general character of richness and elegance.

The house will be on exhibition four days before the sale, so that all parties may have plenty of time to examine closely this unique menage.

INJURIOUS TEA DRINKING.

In the "Daily Post" of September 2 appears a leading article—evidently from an analytical expert—showing that after 15 minutes "draw," Indian Tea yields 17·73 of tannin, while from China comes only 7·93. What this means few know, but those troubled with indigestion may realise in part by use of True China Tea for one week.

GUARANTEED PURE.

Beware of gross, imitations of this well-known mark. Sold in tins of 1, 3, 6 and 12 lbs.

TO ESTANCIEROS.

Why use poisonous dips dangerous to both Man and Beast, and from the effects of which Estancieros are continually suffering heavy losses, and puesteros getting maimed, when you cau buy.

LAIDLAW'S

which is guaranteed perfectly harmless in use, costs less and never fails to cure the worst bases of Scab

Read one of the latests testimonials :—

Estancia El Ombu
Ramallo, Oct. 21st, 1891

Messrs. Mackill, Murray & Co., Buenos Aires
Dear Sirs

I am more than satisfied with the result from dipping with Laidlaw's Tobacco Powder, and I may say that so is Mr. C. Quesada, owner of this estancia. I dipped the sheep (60.000) twice in February and since then have had hardly any work to do from hand-curing and the sheep are perfectly sound to-day. The cost of Dipping, including labour, was $0.2⁶⁵ cents per head or $26.50 per 1000 sheep, I have not tried it for hand curing, having a drum of 5 gallons on hand of another dip, and this has more than sufficed for all the hand-curing that has been necessary since February last.

I remain your sincerely
(signed) CHARLES R. KENYON.

At the Estancia Grande, the property of GEORGE BELL, there are always on Sale Clydesdale and Cleveland Stallions, Durham Bulls, and Lincoln Rams, also Potros suitable for carriages and heavy draught.

As all animals offered for sale at this Estancia are by stallions, bulls, etc., imported direct from England by the owner, it would therefore be advantageous for intending purchasers to inspect the same before purchasing elsewhere.

Nearest Station (under a league from the Estancia) EMPALME PEREIRA F.C. a La Plata from whence animals can be despatched to any part of the Republic.

Animals of the same breeds are obtainable at the Estancia La Favorita. Apply to the Mayodomo, Almacen La Suiza, Carrera Tandil a Necochea, or to Hotel Dhees, Tandil; also at Estancia Santa Catalina. Apply Mayordomo, San Jose de la Esquina, F.C.O.S. Rosario.

Only Address in Buenos Ayres — Venezuela 1062.

EXTRACT OF TOBACCO.

According to numerous testimonials which we hold the extract of pure tobacco is the only infalible remedy to radically cure the scab in sheep and naturally the cheapest. As there are several trade marks like ours care must be taken to see that the extract bears the key marks, without which it is not genuine.

Directions for use

One part of extract mixed with 100 to 150 parts of hot or cold water for bath, and with 80 to 100 parts for hand curing.

Por los mismos
Excepcional Remate de
2.000 Esplendidas Vacas Durham, mestizas
con novillada y con 30 toros padres puros, procedentes del renombrado establecimiento "Miraflores," propiedad del Señor Don Exequiel Ramos Mejias. El remate tendra lugar en las inmediaciones de la estacion Julio Arditi (F. C. de la Magdalena.)

El Domingo 21 de Febrero
a la 1 de la tarde

Las vacas que ofrecemos en venta son especialisimas y pocas veces se presentan ocasiones como estas de hacerse de inmejorables planteles.
Estas haciendas proceden de un rodeo de vacas mestizas que formó a eleccion el Sr. Ramos Mejia y cuyos novillos se han vendido siempre a precios muy elevados, habiendose obtenido hasta 100 pesos cada uno.
Hace muchos años que estas vacas se han reproducido con toros puros de inmejorable sangre y anualmente se han hecho depuraciones y limpiezas, dejando solo lo muy bueno y sacando lo inferior para consumo o para venta.
Los 30 toros son puros por cruzamiento, pues tienen 50 años de mestizacion, siempre con inmejorables reproductores de las buenas cabañas de Inglaterra.
La venta será en lotes para planteles al gusto de los interesados.
Un tren expreso saldrá de la Estacion Central a las 10.25 a.m. regresando una vez concluido el remate. Mas datos a nuestra casa Alsina 480 y 482.
